From Wednesday 15 December

Dear customer

Wetherspoon has reviewed its product range – and there will be some changes to the line-up of our draught products in mid December.

We will be adding Stowford Press cider and Stowford Press Mixed Berries (from Westons, of Much Marcle, Herefordshire) to our portfolio.

We will be retaining Thatchers Gold, Kopparberg and our range of guest ciders.

We will no longer be selling Strongbow or Strongbow Dark Fruit.

We will be replacing John Smith's with Worthington's Creamflow, brewed in Burton-on-Trent, where Worthington beers have been brewed for around 260 years.

We will also be adding draught Corona Extra and Budweiser, two of the biggest beer brands in the world, and Leffe Blonde, the number-one speciality beer in Europe.

We will no longer be selling Foster's, Kronenbourg or Heineken.

We will continue to offer San Miguel, Carling, Coors, Carlsberg, Stella Artois and Bud Light.

As regards traditional ales and craft beers, we will continue to offer all of our popular brands, including Ruddles, Doom Bar, Abbot, BrewDog Punk IPA and Shipyard, as well as our extensive range of guest beers.

Kind regards

John Hutson
Chief Executive
