

Working together to keep you safe

In response to the increase in reported spiking incidents in pubs and nightclubs, the following measures help to make this venue a safe space:

- extra vigilance from our staff and door supervisors
- 'Ask for Angela' campaign
- CCTV, body cameras and radios in use
- drink lids available from the bar, on request

The fault for spiking is that of the person who does it, yet there are measures which you can also take to help us:

- Do not leave your drink unattended on a table; if you do have to, ask a friend to watch it for you.
- If you see anyone acting suspiciously, immediately alert a staff member, so that we can take action.
- If you feel unwell or see others feeling unwell, please let us know.
